Jane,

Hello! I am the director of the sister Division to Nena's which covers topics such as waste listings. We do not have a petition from ACC that meets your description. We do have a petition from the Center for Biological Diversity to list PVC as a hazardous waste, on which ACC sent us a letter urging the EPA to deny the petition. Perhaps that is what you heard reference to?

I've attached that petition and ACC's letter in case that is it. If not, let me know of any other clues that might help us track down what you are looking for. Also, below is a link to the page where we list the petitions our office has received, in case that is helpful.

Subject: RCRA petition to delist plastics

Nena,

I understand that the American Chemistry Council has petitioned the EPA to delist plastic as a solid waste. Could I get a copy of that petition?

Thank you for the earlier this week to hear our concerns about spending precious recycling monies on pyrolysis and gasification. I really your time to hear the concerns of the many communities who desperately need to build out a sustainable recycling infrastructure, not one based on the continued extraction of fossil fuels.

Cordially,

Jane Williams
